RECENT PROJECTS

The Drummoyne Revival

This project involved the complete transformation of a semi-detached home that had fallen into disrepair. Home Equity Constructions managed all stages from structural restoration to high-end interior finishes.

The Silkstone Project

This project involved a complete internal strip-out and full renovation of the existing home, followed by a new rear extension and a self-contained studio addition. Every element from structural works to finishes was rebuilt to create a modern, functional layout that delivers more space, better flow, and long-term value. The result is a fully revived property that feels brand new while remaining perfectly suited to the client's lifestyle.

The man on the left is smiling and wearing a dark quilted jacket with the HomeEquity logo. The man on the right is wearing sunglasses on his head and a similar jacket. The background features white subway tiles, white cabinetry, and a modern pendant light with a black arm and a white conical shade. The HomeEquity logo is overlaid in the center of the image.
